Doctors join radiology practice

Six health care providers recently joined the clinical staff of Regional Medical Imaging, a leading mid-Michigan radiology practice in the Davison area. These clinicians will further expand RMI's expertise in radiology subspecialties and enable the practice to provide a more comprehensive set of diagnostic and image-guided treatment services.

The new members include:

- * Dr. Larry McNamee, medical director for PET/CT.
- * Dr. Alex Boutselis, a specialist in oncologic diagnostic radiology. He was board certified in 1997.
- * Dr. John P. Dobson, who is accredited in mammography by the American College of Radiology.
- * Dr. John Frederick, who has experience in diagnostic and interventional modalities, including CT, ultrasound, MRI, nuclear medicine, thyroid therapy, mammography, and angiography. Board certified in 1988, he remains active in radiology education.
- * Nanci M. Mercer, who is a distinguished specialist in women's imaging, breast imaging and intervention, and Breast MRI.
- * Dr. John S. Morrison, who was board certified in 2003 and received a 2005 Certificate of Added Qualification in Neuroradiology.
